

VIRGINIA INITIATIVE FOR GROWTH & OPPORTUNITY
IN EACH REGION

TODD STOTTLEMYER

CEO, CNSI

BIOGRAPHY

---

Todd Stottlemeyer serves as CEO of CNSI, a private equity backed (The Carlyle Group) healthcare technology solutions company.

Prior to joining CNSI, Todd served as CEO of the Inova Health System's Center for Personalized Health; as CEO of Acentia, a private equity backed (Snow Phipps Group) information technology company (sold to MAXIMUS); as President and CEO of the National Federation of Independent Business; as CEO of Apogen Technologies, a private equity backed (Arlington Capital Partners) information technology company (sold to QinetiQ); as President of McGuireWoods Consulting; as Chief Financial Officer of BTG, a publicly-traded information technology company; and as Corporate Vice President of BDM International, a two times publicly traded and private equity backed (The Carlyle Group) information technology company (sold to TRW; now Northrop Grumman).

Todd currently serves as a Venture Fellow for Blue Delta Capital Partners and on the boards of LMI and The Peterson Cos.

Todd attended William & Mary, graduating Phi Beta Kappa with a B.A, and he received a Juris Doctor degree from the Georgetown University Law Center.

CNSI

CNSI (www.cns-inc.com) delivers a broad range of health information technology enterprise solutions and customizable products to a diverse base of clients. We align, build, and manage innovative, high-quality, cost-effective solutions that help clients achieve their mission, enhance business performance, reduce costs, and improve the health for over 50 million Americans. With locations throughout the U.S. and in India, CNSI employs a world-class team of technologists, healthcare subject-matter experts, and program managers, all of whom have experience with large scale mission-critical information technology implementations.