

Todd A. Stottlemeyer

Todd A. Stottlemeyer currently serves as a member of the Board of Directors of Maximus Federal Services, Inc. In April 2015 Maximus acquired Acentia, where Stottlemeyer served as Chief Executive Officer and a member of the company's Board of Directors since January 2011. Acentia was a private equity backed information technology company with approximately 1,000 employees and annual revenue of more than $200 million.

Prior to joining Acentia, Stottlemeyer served as an Executive Vice President and member of the executive management team for the Inova Health System, a 15,000 employee health care organization serving the Washington, DC region. Prior to joining the Inova Health System, Stottlemeyer served as President and Chief Executive Officer and as a member of the Board of Directors of the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB). Before NFIB, Stottlemeyer was a founder, Chief Executive Officer, and a member of the Board of Directors of Apogen Technologies, a private equity backed information technology company that grew to over $200 million in annual revenue during Stottlemeyer's tenure as CEO. In September 2005, Stottlemeyer led the successful sale of Apogen to QinetiQ Group plc, a publicly traded British technology company. During Stottlemeyer's tenure, Apogen was named as one of the top 50 best places to work in the Washington, DC area.

Prior to Apogen Technologies, Stottlemeyer served as President of McGuireWoods Consulting and was a Managing Director of McGuireWoods Capital Group, where he advised information technology and other companies on growth strategies, acquisitions, and management buyouts. Before McGuireWoods Consulting, Stottlemeyer served as Executive Vice President and Chief Financial and Administrative Officer of BTG, Inc., a publicly-traded information technology company. Prior to BTG, Stottlemeyer served as a Corporate Vice President and member of the executive management team of BDM International, Inc., a publicly traded information technology company with annual revenue exceeding $1 billion and approximately 9,300 employees worldwide.

Stottlemeyer currently serves as Rector (chair) of the Board of Visitors of The College of William & Mary. Previously, Stottlemeyer served as a member of the Board of Visitors of the University of Mary Washington.

Stottlemeyer was recognized by Washington Smart CEO magazine as one of their 20 "Most Admired CEOs" in the Washington, DC region and was recognized by the Washington Business Journal as one of the Washington, DC region's 100 most influential business leaders and as one of the Washington, DC region's 50 "Most Admired CEOs". Previously, Stottlemeyer was selected as the Washington, DC region Chief Financial Officer of the Year for Community Service and received the Northern Virginia Community Trustee leadership Award for outstanding community service.

Stottlemeyer attended The College of William & Mary, graduating Phi Beta Kappa in 1985 with a B.A. He received his Juris Doctor degree from the Georgetown University law Center in 1991, graduating Cum Laude. Stottlemeyer is a member of the Virginia State Bar.
